An order was received Tuesday evening from Judge Hainer for a drawing for jurors for the coming term of district court. The sheriff is now busy summoning jurors and witnesses, and as court commences on the 11 of next month, the sheriff has no time to lose.

The Sigel-Banders Commission Co., have brought suit in the Supreme Court of this state to test the constitutionality of the new law relative to the taxation of cattle being transferred from one county to another, for the purpose of avoiding taxation. The officers of the law should see to it that this law is enforced, and if it don't reach them: then have some cattleman in this county who years ago beat the county out of nearly all their taxes by perjury and otherwise.—Ashland Clipper.

JOINED IN WEDLOCK

Marriage of Miss Lizzie Ruth and F. M. Debe

The interesting event takes place at the home of the bride's parents near Englewood

The nuptials of Miss Lizzie M. Ruth living five miles south of Englewood and Mr. Fred M. Debe of Benton township took place Wednesday Aug. 22 at eleven o'clock A. M., at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Mr. Ross, pastor of the M. E. church at Englewood officiating.

It was a beautiful home wedding, though free from ostentatious display. The happy event occurred in the presence of only a few guests, immediate relatives of the bride and groom, after the words were spoken which gave the young couple authority to address each other as husband and wife, the wedding party repaired to the dining room where they partook of a sumptuous dinner.

The bride clad in a gown of sky-blue silk Henrietta, presented a picture of an attractive type. She is an estimable young lady and possesses those qualities essential to happy home life. The groom in turn is an honest and economical young man of superb personal characteristics and is in a position to provide his wife with a desirable home.

The young couple begin house keeping at once in their elegant home near Riverside, where the groom has resided for years. Assured of their worthy qualities, their friends bid them God-speed, with the belief that the love and sacred vows which have united their destinies, will always enable them side by side, to meet the vicissitudes of life.

Marten Quinn Entertains.

One of the most enjoyable gatherings of little folks that has occurred for a long while took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Quinn, on the 18th inst., on the occasion of little Marten Quinn's birthday, he being eleven years old that day. The gathering, which had been previously arranged for, by the mother and sister of Marten, was a complete surprise to him. There were present about thirty-two guests, all of whom were children, each guest bringing some gift as a token of esteem.

The way in which the little guests partook of cake, pie, watermelons, etc., was pleasing. Two tables were set. At one the boys sat and at the other the girls. The boys' table was headed by J. R. Quinn and Amos Hibb who though advanced in years were among the children in the entertainment. After dinner was served the children spent an enjoyable afternoon in which they indulged in various amusements, of which the "fishing pond" game proved popular.

An incident which rather marred the enjoyment of the occasion was the accident happening to little Will Ulen, who on going to the party was thrown off a horse and sustained a broken arm. The injured boy, however, was well cared for by Mesdames Quinn and Hibbs, till he came back to town.

Soldier's Reunion

The annual reunion of the Southwestern Veterans' Association will be held at Meade Kas, September 19 20 and 21, 1900. Comrades of Beaver Co are requested to "forward march" to this gathering as is the custom on such occasions. Comrades we should endeavor to attend these reunions as much as possible. Our time for attending will not last long as our ranks are thinning day by day and before many years we all shall have answered the last roll call.

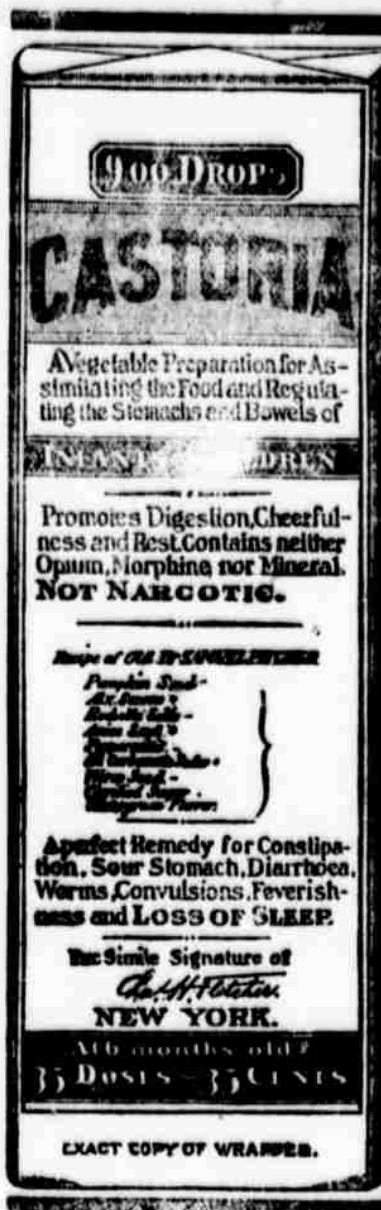

All rally. Let us take our commissary as we used to years ago. Comrades bring your neighbor soldiers and friends.

J. R. Quinn.
Vice President.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gant of Beaver county, are visiting with Mrs. Gant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ketchum, south of town.

Woodward News.

Paul Roberts and sister Mrs. J. W. Webb contemplate returning in a few weeks to Woodbine Ill., their former home, for a visit with relatives and friends. They expect to be absent a month or two.

Mrs. Susan Brazil, a sister of J. W. Webb, arrived in Beaver Friday on her way back from Denver, Colorado, where she had been on an extended visit. Mrs. Brazil will remain with her parents at Cottonwood.

Roberts, Webb and Mc Killips have ordered a new stock of goods for their stores. The grocery store will soon have a nice line of fresh groceries and the other store will be stocked with an immense lot of dry goods, hats, caps boots and shoes, ready made clothing, notions, furniture, etc.,

Be sure and not forget the Woodman dance. It is to be a swell affair, the best dance of the season, good floor good music, and good callers in fact everything to insure a first class dance in every respect. Don't forget the date, September 12 1900.

Mr. W. A. Salter, of Hardisty announces himself in this issue of the Herald as a candidate for the office of treasurer, subject to the action of the Republican county convention. Mr. Salter is postmaster at Hardisty. While we are not well acquainted with him, we understand that he possesses good qualifications for the office which he seeks.

MARRIED.
Garrett-Happs.

On August 19th at the home of the groom's father, Miss Bessie E. Hays and Mr. Charles A. Garrett were joined in marriage by T. H. Evans, justice of the peace. Their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy life.
